The Professionals View – A Healthy Market

A healthy market is one that is founded on free market principles to enable organisations to engage and participate to grow and return profit on investment. It is one where those organisations clearly understand the rules of engagement with respect to procurement and provision of services to deliver infrastructure.

This of course needs to be in an environment that is non-corrupt and is open and transparent and allows fair competition as per the Commerce Act. This enables and encourages organisations the ability to invest and therefore grow within a sustainable economy.
